

THAT BOUTIQUE-Y
GIN COMPANY

PROVENANCE:

California,
USA

BRAND:

That
Boutique-y
Gin Company

STYLE:

American dry

ABV:

46%

PACK SIZES:

50cl

ALAMEDAPOCALYPSE GIN

Product USP:

- Distilled by the award-winning St. George Spirits in Alameda, California
- A complex gin, combining notes of eastern spice, chocolate and full-bodied pine (the latter will be familiar if you've tried the distillery's astonishing Terroir Gin)
- It's a very silly name, we agree, but if the end of the world comes, there should still be time for one more gin

Pack:

A punchy label for a booming gin. St George distillers David Smith and Lance Winters fight to save the world from muscle-bound sharks with legs. Hanger 1 has already been destroyed – a reference to the former St George vodka brand

Liquid:

Nose – Grassy, pine, basil

Palate – Honey, spice, cacao

Finish – Black tea, ginger

RRP:

£31.95

Drinks best:

Tonic water with sage and cucumber, or sage and a ribbon of pumpkin

